Ece: Hey Can, is that the new smartwatch everyone's been talking about lately?

Can: Yes, I finally got it yesterday. The design is amazing, but I ran into a serious problem when I tried to set it up.

Ece: Oh no. (1) _____

Can: I attempted to update the operating system to the latest version, but halfway through the process, the screen suddenly went black and the device became completely unresponsive.

Ece: That sounds frustrating. (2) _____

Can: Yes, I pressed and held the power button for about ten seconds, but nothing happened. I even connected it to the charger, thinking the battery might have died during the update, but the screen remained dark.

Ece: In that case, you might need to perform a hard reset using a specific combination of physical buttons. (3) _____

Can: I'll look it up right now. Also, I noticed that the watch uses artificial intelligence to continuously monitor my daily activity, sleep patterns, and heart rate. To be honest, I feel a little uncomfortable with how much personal information it collects.

Ece: I completely understand your concern. (4) _____

Can: Good idea. I'll review the privacy policy and the data sharing terms carefully tonight. First, let me try to fix this black screen issue.
